Army, Navy Test November 9

OUTLOOK

by WILLIAM MARRINAN

Those of us who have not won the privilege of fighting for our country in any of the theaters of war, must surely note with understanding and deep feeling that we are not absolved of any small part of what every man and woman owes to the cause for which free men in all lands are today fighting.

OUR HERITAGE

We have a duty, a difficult and great one. We must keep standard here, all the values that are surrendered in the hell of war or that have been polluted in the caldron of a sickened world. We must keep burning the plans, hopes and dreams that else might die with their keepers before the firing squads of Europe and Asia or that may be forgotten by the herded and hopeless peoples in the ghettos of slavery and despair.

This is not an easy heritage. But no person in the wake of his conscience or reason can refuse it. On its assumption depends the freedom and honor of the world we must build when the last bomb falls on the face of the tortured earth.

ENLIGHTENED WORLD

It is our task to learn and subsequently teach, the principles of human conduct that keep the world and its people free and right. We must appreciate that honesty and justice and charity are more than mere words from the pages of moral codes. They must be rich, living realities. And they must be implemented, made the working principles of ourself, the organizations in which we move and the governments under which we live. They are the necessary concomitants of a great culture. Using them we must work unceasingly for an enlightened world where peace can endure the years and the changes of government and the ways of men.

WAR BOARD PLANNED FOR S. F. STATE

A new war board, under the direction of Myra Warren, will be organized to function in student activities, is was decided at the first regular meeting of the Executive board last Tuesday. Red Cross groups, campus organizations, USO groups and other war-time gatherings will coördinate their plans with this new committee. It is felt that such a committee is vitally needed if campus organizations are to fluctuate properly, stated Aubrey Wendling, student body president.

The Board was asked to consider night activities on the campus in relation to the curfew hours and the use of college activities. Action on these matters were left pending.

A publicity committee, to work with Dave Schutz on publicizing college happenings, was designated with Betty Cloak as appointed chairman.

DR. ADDIS TO SPEAK AT I.R.C. MEETING

"What Kind of a World" will be the topic presented by Dr. Thomas Addis of Stanford University at the first business meeting of the International Relations Club. Dr. Addis, who is also a representative of the Bay Area War Relief organization, will specifically discuss imperialism, economic planning and international organization in his lecture at noon today in Annex A, room 12.

Joint plans are being made with the Student Christian Association to sponsor a speaker program for the semester. Proposed speakers include Warden Clinton Duffy of San Quentin and Warden Johnson of Alcatraz. Other men and women prominent in the fields of social welfare and criminology will be asked to speak.

The program planned for the semester includes a monthly United Nations program, a luncheon featuring national dishes, and a program of national music and songs.

New Equipment For Home Nursing Course

"Home nursing is a course that every woman should take, particularly at this time," stated Dr. Edna L. Barney in reference to the Hygiene 4 and 104 classes. "Each home nurse, in her own home, has become a substitute for a regular paid nurse, thus releasing the registered nurses for vital war service," she added.

New equipment has been added to the Home Nursing room in Anderson Hall and classes will be under the direction of Red Cross nurses.

STATE PREXY

To the students both old and new I offer a sincere welcome. I feel that due the war, San Francisco State has a special type of student body. If I were to pun, I would say "hello 4F's, 2A's, 1C's and oh yes! what's doing' girls?

But actually you students have made a very definite choice, a choice that has required the weighing of two values. Whether to take the economic advantages that are so plentiful now and to take a chance on securing your education during the post-war period or to secure your education now and assure yourself a place in the immediate future.

Although our college has a depleted enrollment as compared to past semesters I am assured of the fact that because you have made the decision to attend college, we have a student body that consists of quality rather than quantity.

Aubrey Wendling.

RED CROSS TO OFFER CERTIFICATE

The San Francisco State College has been authorized by the American Red Cross to give the Red Cross Life Saving and Water Safety Instructor's certificate. This is an experimental arrangement and is to be offered in conjunction with P. E. 133, the technique of teaching swimming. To be eligible for this certificate issued by the Red Cross, students must hold a current Senior Life Saving Certificate, should be of upper division status and nineteen years of age.

This is the first time in the history of the college that the Water Safety Instructor's certificate has been available to San Francisco State College students. Prior to this, students had to attend a Red Cross aquatic school or be authorized by field representatives of the Red Cross. This experimental arrangement combines with college work and gives to students Red Cross recognition.

A.S.T.P. Plans To Provide Technicians For Army

Students who will soon qualify for the military services will be given a chance to take the ASTP, Army Specialized Training Program or the Navy College Program in a test given here at San Francisco State on Wednesday, November 9, according to Dean P. F. Valentine.

To be eligible for this test, the students must be high school or preparatory students whether or not in college, or students who hold high school diplomas but are now continuing their education in college. Also qualified for the test are high school seniors who will graduate by March 1944.

PHYSICALLY FIT

These students who are between the ages of 17 or 19 years inclusive may apply for the Army Specialized Training program or the Navy program, but not for both. Applicants who are 20 to 21 years of age inclusive may apply for the Army test.

In addition to these qualifications, the applicants must be morally and physically fit and have a good appearance and good scholarship records. The Navy College program requires the student to be a citizen of the U. S., to be morally and physically fit with the minimum uncorrected visual acurity of 18-20 in each eye. He must also be single and agree to remain so until commissioned.

COLLEGE CREDITS

The purpose of the ASTP is to provide technicians and specialists for the Army. Those who are selected or who pass the test will study in fields determined largely by their own qualifications. They will be soldiers on active duty and will receive regular army pay.

JUKE BOX JIVE IN GYM TODAY

School activities will get off to a start with a student body dance to be held today at 12:00 noon. Music will be furnished by a juke box, entertaining us with old and new hits. Highlight of the dance will be the door prize of $5.00 in war stamps to be given to the lucky card holder in the drawing.

Service men from the near-by Presidio are being cordially invited to even up the ratio of dancing couples. Everyone with student body cards is urged to come and make this dance a real live-wire social event. The dance will start promptly at the stroke of 12:00 noon and end at 1:00, giving a real hour of fun and frolic. President Wendling announced today that this is just the first of a series of social activities to be presented on this war-time campus.

Let's make it a success and start college spirit with a real bang! DANCE TODAY IN THE GYM AT 12:00 NOON!!

CLUB PLANS WAR PROGRAM

Plans for a new social and war service program for the fall semester were made by members of the Bib 'n' Tucker at their first meeting of the semester Wednesday, October 13, in the Activities room.

Pat Thomas, president, officiated for the first time. New officers for this semester are: Marge De Andreis, vice-president; Rosemary Minaker, treasurer; Virginia Van de Water, recording secretary; Georjean Goldsmith, corresponding secretary; Edith Marick, A.W.S. representative; Laura Carra, historian.

TO STUDENTS

To the Students—Old and New:

Another college year is under way with a smaller faculty and fewer students. It will not be an easy year for any of us. There will be confusion, perplexity and difficulty. College education under war conditions is hard. There is hope and challenge, however, and in the activities of this year, you will have the best efforts of this faculty under good conditions for college learning and training. We will make it a great year for you PERSONALLY and for the college. Welcome all.

Alexander C. Roberts.

Enrollment Drops To 700 Mark

Latest figures on total enrollment for this semester show that there are 767 students taking either a full or part time program on the State campus, according to Mrs Florence Vance, registrar. Of these students, 655 are women and 112 are men. Only 48 of the total registered are limited students.

Of the 423 new and re-entrant students who applied for registration booklets, 75% were issued. These students include 164 freshmen, 85 transfers, 47 re-entrants, and 3 post graduates.

At the present time there are 922 former State students in the armed forces: 862 men and 60 women are in various branches of the service. Ten of these women are serving as nurses.

WANTED!

Students to volunteer for work in college library during their free hours. See Miss MacWilliams for information.

WHY WORRY?

"Why worry? Nothing you ever worry about happens. If it does happen, it's not as bad as you thought it would be. If it is, you've lived through it."

This rather prophetic phrase might well apply to the feeling that most of us had after "putting the first edition to bed." A decrease in enrollment made it necessary to cut the size of Gater. The closing of the College print shop forced us to look elsewhere for printing facilities. We cried out in despair when we saw the size of the staff.

Last year, President Frances Young discussed with other college presidents, at a convention held in Nevada, "The plight of the publications." It was decided, and we agree wholeheartedly, that school publications should continue no matter what size or how many editions could be published.

Gater will be printed once a week, and though the size may be smaller, the number of issues will be as many if not more. The campus activities will be covered concisely and accurately by reporters and a staff photographer (if we can find one).

So here it is, Your Gater. Let it represent you and your activities, for only then can it be your servant.

A. C. P.'s Correspondent Reports from Washington

An Ugly Man contest was sponsored last spring on the San Jose State College campus in California by Alpha Phi Omega, scout service fraternity. At a penny a vote, $150 was earned by the ballots to contribute to a war purpose.

Women students out-number the men at the University of Texas this fall for the first time in history. The normal proportion is two men to each woman, but in this war year, registration of women is 3,291 as compared to 3,155 men.

Twenty-six members of the Farm Victory Cadet Corps during the month of July stayed on the Keuka College campus, Keuka, N. Y., to pick red and black raspberries on nearby farms. Working ten hours a day, the women picked more than 8,000 quarts of raspberries.

Two non-academic members of the Randolph-Macon women's college staff, Lynchburg, Va., have been with the school ever since its founding in 1893. The two are Mr. Burks, superintendent of the buildings and grounds, and "Aunt Maria," for half a century a maid in the college dormitories.

The Indiana University School of Dentistry is celebrating its twentieth anniversary this year.

Civilian and naval students on the Georgia Tech campus are conducting a contest to name the queen of all Techmen's girl friends. The winner will be dubbed: "The Girl I'd Rather Be Restricted With."

Captain Robert M. Crawford of the Army Air Corps, composer of the official song of the United States Army Air Corps, attracted Case School of Applied Science and Princeton University.

A new electric pottery kiln, the only one of its kind in Iowa, has recently been installed at Iowa State Teachers College.

NEW YORK, New York (ACP) —The war has hit a hard blow at nation's schools, educators attending the twenty-third annual meeting of the National Education Association agreed.

Thousands of teachers have left their school work to take higher paying war jobs, while other thousands are in the armed forces. An official report by the association predicted an estimated shortage of 75,000 teachers this fall.

About one-fifth of the nation's 30,000,000 school children returned to new teachers this September, according to an estimate by Dr. Alonzo M. Myers, chairman of the department of higher education of New York University.

More than 100,000 of the 250,000 teachers hired this summer have sub-standard qualifications, he said, and received employment only because of the shortage of teachers.

Dr. Myers asserted that a high percentage of teachers who are working in war plants did not return to their former teaching jobs this fall.

One of every five male teachers has left his job since Pearl Harbor, said Dr. Ivan A. Booker, assistant director of the National Education Association's research staff.

"And the superintendents tell us it is the best teachers who go first," he said. "The subjects most in demand are those taught by men—mathematics, science, physical training and shop courses."

VIGINETTES

by MARY McGRATH

Since this is the first of a series of articles by your Art Editor, we would like to explain just what we are planning for the Artist's corner of the Feature Page. We don't want our column to be so specialized that the average reader will skip it hurriedly by. On the other hand we want to present material that will be useful to all who are interested in art.

Vignettes, as you may know, are small drawings not enclosed by borders, and inasmuch as space is limited and we cannot cover our subject matter in complete detail, we will have to "vignette" our information and select what seems to us to be most important. At times we will take you vicariously to the museums to see and evaluate new exhibits of paintings. Occasionally we will discuss the relative merits or demereits of Picasso or Van Gogh, or anyone else who may catch our attention. Then there will be columns devoted to hints on how to successfully market your drawings or answers to your questions about Art, or Artists. There is a great deal of material in this field, and we hope you will find our selections valuable to you.

KATIE KAMPUS sez . . .

by LAURA CARRA

And she wore a flower in her hair . . . . Flowers, flowers everywhere on this hea' campus this term, tres chic femmes!

Another quick glance around the campus reveals that 'blazer" craze in jackets, red ones, black and blue ones. With or without the lapels the blazer is practically a must in every college girl's wardrobe.

Yellow and dull green seems to be the favorite combination for the plaid skirts, which incidentally go very well with the blazer.

The flannel shirt, very mannish, very tailored, very smart is another favorite with this term's Katie Kollege.

Keep coloring the home front girls, if not with blazers, plaid skirts . . . . wear a flower in your hair.

THE MUSIC CORNER

Try-outs for A Capella Choir and Treble Clef are being held all this week and next, according to Alice Doste, president of the Music Federation. The A Capella Choir led by Mr. Roy Freeburg, is a group of mixed voices, men especially are welcome to come and try-out. The members of the Choir are looking forward to singing on the radio, at the U.S.O. and other clubs this term.

The Treble Chef, led by Dr. Otey, is also holding try-outs for this group of women's voices. See the bulletin board in the music alley for appointments.

MURALS TO DECORATE HALLS

Murals, presented to the school by members of Miss Meyer's Art classes of last term, will decorate the Activities Room and College Hall this year, according to Dean Mary A. Ward, Dean of Women. Two of these murals, painted by Mrs. Roena Evans and Miss Mary Tounger, will be featured.

MALLARINO'S MALLARKIE

Well students, school has once again started and many of the old faces are back again (horrible isn't it?) and so are a great many new ones. If the boys keep on diminishing at this rapid rate, it will be no time at all before the faculty begins to revise the curriculum on a normal school basis. Oh we lucky men! May I take the liberty of welcoming all you new students as well as the old to our beloved State.

STATE-MENTS

Those two spirits (pardon, spirit) boasters are back again this semester. They are in the persons of "Bea" Goldstone and Grace Kremesec. Glad to see you back girls . . . . ATTENTION GIRLS!!! Gods gift to the women, Migod Don Pagani is again a member of the Hill-Top. Don informs me that he would like you girls to make your dates at least a week in advance . . . . Lonesome Barbara Jenkins prefers to study "zoo" instead of mingling with our 4F's . . . . Janet Whitehead would like to have everyone know that she is the proud owner of a fashionable 1943 peptic ulcer . . . . Incidentally girls, all that moaning and groaning you hear about College Hall is Fred Hansen's wolf cry. He is making eyes at a certain little freshman. To be honest, your reporter would like to know her too . . . Then we have Marjorie Anderson who stole her mothers corset and didn't have guts enough to wear it.

HILL-TOP HAPPENINGS

It seems that the conventional thing to do this semester is to get married or engaged. The conventional people of this institution are Jeannie O'Lague who is now Mrs. Hal Keller . . . . "El" Grattorola got a piece of cracked glass from Dick Wallace. The church bells are being oiled and tuned for Ginny Van De Water who hopes to be saying "I do" in a couple of months hence.

STATERS ON THE LOOSE

Pat Hopkins was offered a Paramount contract but rejected it. She thinks that getting the education and being convoyed down Market Street by the Armed Forces is much more important than "getting glamour" . . . Betty Abbot is now tickling the ivories and handing out that musicians line at the Sir Francis Drake Hotel . . . . Last weekend was a scene of much excitement at Carmel. The Alpha Omega gave a blowout (and we do mean blowout) at Log Haven. Among those who flipped a few smoggis with the Cadets present were Merilyn Adams, Jonie Herrich, Nancy Hanno, Jackie Block and "Bev" Forney . . . . Aubrey Wendling, S. B. Prexy and the Missus were present. Aubrey was celebrating his wedding anniversary and birthday.

WISDOM OF THE WEEK

War-time change in the Webster dictionary is as follows: Man is either too young, too old, or worn out.

WITH THE CAST

by EARL ANDERSON

Probably no theatrical entertainment is so exciting to watch as opera. From backstage, as a participant, the thrill is doubled. Having participated in several operas in the unglorified role of "super," I speak from experience.

A super is an individual (generally male) of any age from 16 to 60, who enjoys the dubious distinction of performing a non-singing, non-dancing role in opera. The super is generally a soldier, sometimes a priest, a waiter, a beggar, or an attendant.

This season, in the opening performance of the season, Saint-Saens' "Samson et Delila," yours truly appeared in three scenes as soldier. Later performances offered supers as waiters in "Traviata," priests in "La Forza del Destino," beggars in "Cavalleria Rusticana," and in this evening's performance of "The Girl of the Golden West" as rough-and-ready miners.

The number of supers varies from four or five in such operas as "The Bartered Bride" to as many as one hundred and twenty in spectacles like "Aida." "Aida" and "Samson," since they require the super to wear a costume of considerable brevity, require body-make-up on arms and legs in addition to the usual face make-up. Easy to get on, it is by no means easy to get off. The opera house offers negligible facilities for showering a large chorus, ballet, and in addition "extra boys" as Agnini, the stage director, is wont to call us. Generally as much make-up as possible is removed from the face and you do the rest at home, often requiring three baths. Linings of your clothes bear traces for some time thereafter and it is not an uncommon sight to see a refugee from "Aida" or "Samson," his customary pallor supplemented by bright orange ears, which he has overlooked in the make-up removal process.

In addition to the performance, for which you receive all of one dollar, you generally are required to appear at least one rehearsal. This can be looked upon as either necessary drudgery or a lot of fun. Sometimes it is both. The other evening for a rehearsal of "The Girl of the Golden West," we were present in the theater in full make-up and costume from eight until twelve, our evenings work consisting of running across the stage once. However, looking on the bright side, we had a chance to get an advance glimpse at a fascinating, rarely given opera with most of the principals present, and a preview of the score played by the full opera orchestra. Sometimes though, the waits become tiresome, and one wonders what lures the supers. Is it the call of art or just the dollar?

RAMBLINGS BY RUBIN

LOU RUBIN

Having always had the ambition write for the paper; and this ng war (shortage of manwer), I was finally able to talk Sports Editor into letting me my hand at it. (The dice game led the deal.) So the rest is now to you, dear Reader; if this colmn goes even a little way towards joyment, won't you puleeze let Editor know; otherwise just ep quiet!

Since this is the first edition, d there haven't been any athtic encounters as yet, yours truly n't offer his humble suggestions either constructively or destructrely. Something else can be ofred tho'—the "Scoop of the eek." San Francisco State Colge will not have a footabll team is year. The coaches came to this cision after the male enrollment ll under the one hundred ('Tis rd to believe, but 'tis true) ark.

rong Intramural Program

This semester the emphasis will on intramural sports. There ll be a Basketball and Soccer Varsity. According to Dean David Cox, the object will be to get every man interested in some sport, and then have intramural competition. The Block "S" (all three members) will take a large share in promoting the needed competition.

Around the Campus

Frank Cohen, block winner on last years baseball team walking around with a broken ankle, the accident occurred while he was playing sandlot baseball—Ed Russell, all-around star State athlete sporting a snappy Marine uniform, himself the picture of good health. Dick Murray, back for what seems his tenth year anxiously waiting for the basketball season, only this year he'll play. Jan, who knows more baseball than any girl on the campus, and probably as much or more than most boys, walking around with a face down to there because her favorite ball club, a team she has boosted for years lost the World Series. At the drop of a hat, Jan can tell you St. Louis's score for the whole season, the players' records, and the size of Billy Southworth's hat.

"SIX MAN FOOTBALL . . MAYBE" — Dan Farmer

Contrary to popular belief, State is anticipating a football eleven this semester. Although the male population is under a hundred, Dean Cox and Dan Farmer are of the opinion that we can organize a football team.

To be sure, competition will not be of the top-notch class. The varsity will compete with various San Francisco high schools, service teams and junior colleges. The formation of a varsity team will at least keep State in the sport head lines for the coming semester.

SIX MAN FOOTBALL?

Our coaches are doing all in their power to continue football. This can be proven by the fact that a great deal of discussion was going on in order to organize a six man squad. We have slim hopes of obtaining a varsity team so the only alternative is the six man team. I would like to quote Dan Farmer who said, "It is important that we keep school morale at the highest peak possible by having some sort of team. Maybe six man football will be the answer to State's athletic woes. It is much better to keep a team going even if it is a team of a lower caliber than no team at all."

POTENTIAL MATERIAL

We know that Uncle Sam claimed practically all of our last season's team but we still have a few men who are not eligible for the draft and are at the same time prospective football material. If Dave Faktor, Tim Haggerty of Sacred Heart and Grove Mohr of Polytechnic go out for the team, we will have three boys who made good showing in their high school careers. Then there are a few who have had no experience, but are willing to try.

JAYVEE TEAM

The prospective team will be a Junior Varsity, if it goes on to formation. Naturally there is no schedule at the present time. If there is any man in the Student Body who would be interested in football please sign up in the gym. There will be no issuing of Varsity Blocks but the Circle S Block will be the only award given to the Junior Varsity team.

FIRST AID STATION TO BE ORGANIZED BY DETACHMENT

The First Aid Detachment of San Francisco State College will be active this semester and will organize first aid stations to be used in case of an air raid, stated Evelyn Woodard, president of the organization.

It is important that all Red Cross First Aid card holders sign up with the Detachment. Each First Aider will be assigned a post and will report there in event of an air raid signal.

A meeting is to be held today for the purpose of electing new officers and to work out the general organization for this semester.

All those students interested in becoming stretcher bearers and messengers, please sign up with Miss Holtz in the Women's Gym, or Miss Fisher, in Anderson Hall. First Aid cards are not necessary for these positions.

SPORTS W. A. A.

Again W.A.A. has done it! Another rally, more fun, and a big time was had by all at the first Women's Athletic Association Rally yesterday in the gym.

This is only one of the many activities that the officers of W.A.A. have planned for this semester. President Mary Endler invites all girls with student body cards to become an active member of W.A.A. The highlights of this term are the Folk Dance Federation Festival, High School Playday, Hockey Playday, W.A.A A.W.S. Tea and winding up with Fall Spread award dinner.

The new officers for the fall term are: Mary Endler, president; Evelyn Woodard, vice-president; Ruth Imsand, corresponding secretary; Margery Erickson, recording secretary; and Dorothy Johnson treasurer.

FEATURE WRITER TO HEAD GATER STAFF

Heading the Gater staff at State this semester as Editor in Chief is Betty Cloak, former Gater feature editor. Other staff editors for the semester are the following: June Gyselbrecht, associate editor; Lorraine Thomas, business manager Bernard Mallarino, sports editor; Katherine La Mancusa, feature editor; and Mary McGrath, staff artist. The position of managing editor has not yet been filled.

For the first time in several years State is planning to have a staff photographer for the Gater. The position is still open.

RALLY PLANNED BY A.W.S.

The first event on a full calendar of the Associated Women's Students is a rally this Wednesday, October 20, at noon, in the Little Theater of Annex A. It's a rally for women and by women! And it's under the able chairmanship of Lorraine LaCava.

This event and all forthcoming functions will be under the guidance of the elected A.W.S. officers for the year. Edith Maneck, president; Mary Huffman, vice president; Betty Rank, secretary.

All women student body card holders are automatically members of the A.W.S., eligible for all the good times, and the opportunity to meet and become acquainted with "Your neighbors."

Membership cards will be placed in all the eligible women's post boxes today. This is your ticket to the rally on Wednesday, and to all future events of the A.W.S.

COLLEGE THEATER TO PLAN CAMPUS PLAYS

An interview early this week with Miss Jessie Casebolt, head of the Speech department and director of College Theater, divulged the information that she is busy reading plays with an eye to producing one in the very near future. She has had several in mind but various casting difficulties preclude their immediate production.

Miss Casebolt is enthusiastic about the thespic talents already played by new students enrolled in her classes and looks forward to their participation in College Theater activity. Despite the departure from College of a goodly 75% of last term's thespians, she looks forward to a busy season. In addition to on the campus activity, the Army Y.M.C.A. is again this year requesting four one-act plays to tour the various camps in the Bay region. Last year four plays played a total of approximately thirty performances. None of the participants last year will soon forget the marvelous receptions accorded them by the soldier audiences. After the initial term play of the season is launched around Dec. 1 if time permits, Miss Casebolt will direct a second three-act play to reach the boards around February 1.

The only fly in the ointment is the apparent scarcity of men available for the work. Previous lack of participation should not deter any man from trying-out. More than once in the past, someone with no theatrical experience has walked off with the leading role and under Miss Casebolt's able direction given an excellent performance. If you have any bent toward the theatrical, and particularly if you have had experience, watch these pages for announcement of try-outs and come try your luck.

In the meantime, Alpha Psi Omega, National Honorary Dramatic Fraternity in planning its next meeting to be held in the early part of November with six students being pledged for membership. New officers for the fraternity are Earl Anderson, President; Barbara Carle, Vice-President; Adele Menjou, Secretary. Alpha Psi Omega is probably the only fraternity on the campus which was active during the Summer despite school closing. During the Summer three meetings were held at the homes of members Barbara Carle, Adele Menjou, Earl Anderson, and Ruth Feathers respectively.

CARD HOLDERS DERIVE BENEFITS

Many new students have purchased student body cards for the first time and may be in doubt as to what benefits they derive as a card holder.

They may participate in all activities including clubs and school athletics. Card holders are entitled to free copies of the Gater and are covered by a health fee against accidental injury while on the campus. In addition to this they may receive free admission to all State athletic contests and may receive reduced admission to all athletic events of other colleges. The student card holder is entitled to free or reduced admission to State dances, dramatics or musical productions. Facilities for any meeting and use of the student body office for banking are always available to the card holder. They may become voting members with the privilege of electing and running for class and student body offices and may attend any Executive Board meeting.

MORE ON TESTS

The purpose of the Navy College program is to provide officers for the Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard.

Students who fail to take the test when it is given on November 9 will have no further chance to take it until the spring of 1944. Each applicant will be notified approximately December 20 of the results. An unsatisfactory score does not exclude a candidate from being considered for the ASTP permanently as an Army General Classification test serves as further opportunity to become eligible.

EX-EDITOR IN MERCHANT MARINE

Paul Scholten, alias "Grease Ball Scholten," is now a member of the United States Merchant Marine. "The nut on the boat behind the wheel." In other words, he's the boy the captain depends on to keep the engines moving when he's out to sea.

After completing his first cruise, he decided that a vacation was in order to calm his nerves, so "pretty boy" Wallace and Paul decided to take it on the arthurduffy and go down the field of wheat (Australian dialect) to Canada where they enjoyed the Canadian hospitality.

After rubbing elbows with the elite at the local near and fars for a week, Paul decided to make a return trip on the ship, the S.S. ——— (military secret—Kaiser doesn't like publicity). At the present time, Paul Scholten, last year's editor, is sailing the briney deep.

31 STUDENTS FAIL STATE REQUIREMENTS

Thirty-one students of San Francisco State were disqualified for failing to meet the scholarship requirements at the end of the spring semester. Of these 31, three were re-admitted on probation.

In order to meet the minimum requirements of scholarship standards, students with 0-14½ registered units need a grade point average of 0.0. The remaining minimum grade points required for a specific amount of registered units are: 15-29 ½, 2.3; 30-40 ½ 0.4; 45-59 ½, 0.6; 60-74 ½, 0.7; 75-89 ½, 08.; 90 or above 0.9; and graduates 1.0.

LIBRARY TO OBSERVE NEW HOURS

New library hours have been tentatively arranged for the fall semester. The library will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, according to Miss Ruth Fleming, librarian. The library will not be open Saturday.

Those who have left the library staff are Miss Ruth Lyon and Miss Elizabeth Martin.

• Have a Coca-Cola = Howdy, Neighbor

It's natural for popular names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why you hear Coca-Cola called "Coke".

from Arizona to Australia

At home or abroad, when the American soldier says Have a "Coke" to a stranger, he's made a new buddy. From Minneapolis to Melbourne, Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes —has become the mark of the good neighbor.
